The One Earth Choir GREEN PROJECT

Any school, farm, agricultural institution or cooperative, anyone working with green and renewable energies, and anyone who has the skills, abilities and knowledge about planting, pruning grapevines or olive trees, harvesting rice, sowing the garden, or on the energies of sun, wind and water, is invited to join the One Earth Choir which in the 2013 GREEN Project starts with the Earth -

The Green Project will dedicate one or more days a year inviting children and young people to share some experiences about the Earth, the plants, about renewable energies, about sustainability -

GOAL: YOUNG PEOPLE re-DISCOVER NATURE - THE SOURCE OF FOOD - RENEWABLE ENERGIES

Young people all over the world re-discover the source of food and of green and renewable Energies -

Through personal experiences with the Earth, they discover:

- the green renewable Energies which Nature offers -
- the rhythms of nature, the richness and breath of the Earth -
- the sense of cyclical trends, and a new sense of a day's cycle on Earth -
- the sense of sowing, and the meaning of waiting, at various levels -
- the sense of trust -
- the sense of co-creating and of sharing -

AIM - YOUNG PEOPLE LEARN FROM THE EARTH, THEIR TEACHER

YOUNG PEOPLE from all over the Earth will ENCOUNTER the EARTH again, learn from Earth, their teacher, discover her TEACHINGS, her VITAL ENERGY and VALUES, rediscover some of their Own Vital experiences and SHARE them with others -

THE BEGINNING

A ONE EARTH CHOIR GREEN BRIDGE between Italy and Thailand

'The Il Posto Castello Farm' in Illasi, Italy, and
'The Sainam Agricultural Cooperative' in Thailand' began the Project on 5 January 2013 by lighting a bonfire in the courtyard of the Illasi farm, where Mr Luciano Benini of the Posto Castello farm, in Illasi and Mr Claudio Romano of the Sainam Cooperative, in Thailand met symbolically on Skype, and inaugurated the One Earth Choir GREEN Project -
